SUPERVISORS HOLD VERY BUSY SESSION

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, October 21, at 10 a. m., there being present Dr. C. V. Thompson, presiding, T. L. Hickey, W. H. Brown, John MacBain absent, and Joseph M. Francis.

Mrs. H. A. Dana, chairman of the San Mateo County Social Service Commission, and Mrs. C. R. Walters, one of the directors, appeared before the board and presented a report from the commission wherein recommendations were made for the granting of state and county aid in several cases and for the withdrawal of aid in other cases.

The report of the commission was accepted by the board, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey.

Mrs. Dana then addressed the board relative to the request made some time ago that the supervisors appoint two of their members to serve as directors of the Social Service Commission.

Owing to the absence of Supervisor Francis, Chairman Thompson explained that it would be impossible to take any action in the matter that day, but that the board had the request under consideration and that as soon as any action was taken, the Social Service Commission would be duly notified.

A communication was next read from the Social Service Commission, protesting the action of the board in placing a certain person residing at San Mateo back on the indigent list of the county after the person's name had been removed by the State Board of Control.

Supervisor Brown stated that he would assume all resonsibility for the action of the board in the matter. He had thoroughly investigated the case and found it a very worthy one and he did not think it was right to remove the person in question from the indigent list until other provisions had been made for her and for her children's care.

Supervisor MacBain also addressed the board in the matter and stated that he thought a mistake had been made in removing the person from the list, and he believed aid should be given the woman until other provisions could be made for her.

Mrs. Dana informed the board that aid was now being given the woman. but the commission simply wanted to let the board know that in their judgment the aid was not right. She suggested that in the future where matters of this kind came up and the commission and the supervisors do not agree that the two bodies get together and discuss the differences, so that they can be settled more readily.

Mrs. Walter explained to the board the Social Service Commission's position with regard to the Board of Control, stating the Commission merely made a report of the actual conditions affecting cases and then the State Board of Control acted as it saw fit.

A communication was read from the Public Health Service of the county, asking that they be allowed to file claims against the fund set aside for this purpose for the salary of the nurse, the upkeep of the latter's automobile, stationery used by the office and for the rent of the free clinic at Daly City.

Chairman Thompson explained to Mrs. Dana and Mrs. Walters that this would be the proper course to pursue in taking care of these claims.

Mrs. Dana next addressed the board in the matter of the plan of the Red Cross Society to open a temporary hospital at San Mateo to take careo f the emergency cases resulting from the Spanish influenza epidemic in the county. She stated that plans were being made that day for securing either the Peninsula Hotel or the Kohl residence at San Mateo and she asked that the supervisors make an appropriation to cover the expenses connected with the same. Mrs. Dana explained that the nursing and help connected with the hospital would be volunteer.

Supervisor MacBain suggested that in view of the fact that the board would be called upon in the near future to appropriate probably $10,000 in the United War Work drive, it would not be advisable to take any action in the matter until it was known just what amount would be required of the county. It would then be necessary for the board to secure legal advice from the district attorney before promising any appropriation.

Supervisor Brown informed Mrs. Dana that the board had made arrangements to care for influenza cases in the county at a place already provided for.

In its decision to further assist in the campaign against the epidemic which had reached an alarming stage and to co-operate with the Red Cross the board agreed to hold an executive session immediately upon adjournment and later in the day meet again with Mrs. Dana and Mrs. Walters.

Supervisor MacBain addressed the board and stated that the roof of the Kaiser home in Redwood City, now securing county aid, was badly in need of repair. On motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey, Supervisor MacBain was empowered to make the necessary repairs to the roof.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Brown, the sum of $1,827.40 was ordered transferred from the general fund to the San Gregorio-La Honda Oiling Fund to take care of the payment for oiling of the San Gregorio road.

This being the time set for the hearing of the charges against Manuel Goularte, Pescadero saloonkeeper for selling intoxicating liquor to one Charlie White on September 27, while the latter was in a state of drunkenness, and Goularte failing to appear to answer to the charge, the board, after listening to the testimony of John Bennett, constable of the Fifth township who filed the complaint, voted on motion of Hickey, seconded by MacBain, to revoke the license of the saloonkeeper. District Attorney Swart conducted the hearing.

Vote for Clark Rice for recorder. He is qualified and capable.—Adv.

SHERIFF M. SHEEHAN'S ELECTION ASSURED

There is hardly any doubt of the re-election of Sheriff M. Sheehan. He has made a splendid official, is capable and honest and everyone is satisfied with his manner of conducting the office of sheriff. He has given the people a good administration. There is no need of a change, the affairs of the sheriff's office could not be improved upon by a new man. At the primary election Mr. Sheehan had three contenders, receiving 2759 votes more than his highest opponent and lacked only a few votes of securing more than the combined votes of the three which would have elected him. However, at the coming election it is only a case of how much his majority will be. His election is practically assured.

FOR GOVERNOR

W. D. STEPHENS

FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT

THOMAS J. LENNON

FOR CONGRESS

E. A. HAYES

RE-ELECT E. A. HAYES

In a time of war men reveal their true characteristics. Those elemental passions that civilization has covered with a thin veneer of good manners once more come to the surface. The love of country—one of the noblest of human passions at such a time shows at its best, and also at its worst. Under its impelling force men are willing to sacrifice their limbs and even their lives for liberty and humanity. Other men not physically fit to render such service give their time, their efforts, and their money to make the world a safe place to live in for the brief time one need it. Other men impelled by the meanest of motives cannot resist the chance to add to their usual gains by exploiting their fellows when they come to purchase the necessities of life. They make money but they win the contempt of all thoughtful people, and hand down to their children a lot of paltry dollars wrung from the toil of the poorest paid, and with them an inheritance of shame. Others make an effort to capitalize patriotism in another direction and to lift themselves to positions of fame and influence. By all the arts of the politician they seek to make the voters believe their particular brand of patriotism is the only real article. No matter what their antagonist is sacrificing or has sacrificed they want the preference because they have a superior brand of patriotism that can only be rewarded by a good fat job for instance at Washington. We have an illustration of this in the contest for Congress in this district.

Because Mr. Hayes voted wrong on some questions at the out-break of the war, and pleased a lot of cold-blooded people in his district, some of whom are now working for his opponent, there can be no redemption for Hayes. Let us turn aside for a moment for an illustration on a national scale. With all his ability, honesty and strength of character I am so obtuse I cannot see that the patriotism of Woodrow Wilson is superior to that of Theodore Roosevelt. If the President had boys I suppose they would be in the service. The sons of his cabinet members are there. His son-in-law has been in the danger zone in Red Cross work. But the youngest son of Roosevelt has paid the price of liberty. Another son has come home an invalid from wounds. The other two sons and son-in-law are still on the job. Their old father, now more than 60 would long ago have been with them on the battle line but for the veto of the President—which may bring him much political satisfaction but little credit.

And so with E. A. Hayes, who is an old man. But his boys and his son-in-law are in the service. A daughter has offered her services as a nurse in France. It is not probable any of them waited for the draft. Such patriotism is the only kind that counts, the only kind I understand. But his opponent offers a different kind which is claimed to be superior He was born in 1872 and so is safely past the draft. Though a strong and vigorous man, able to render full military service, he has no thought of making any sacrifice on the altar of liberty. A seat in the House of Representatives is a comfortable and safe place from which to do one's fighting. Most of any of us would be willing to fight in such fashion. It is right now in order for Hugh S. Hersman to show what his family is doing in this time of parting from loved ones that they may make of their bodies a rampart over which the forces of autocracy can never pass. Finding fault with the record of Mr. Hayes don't answer this query. At least in patriotic service Mr. Hayes' family have made good. But what has been done by Hugh S. Hersman?

John I. Nolan Says:

San Francisco, California, October 14, 1918.—Honorable E. A. Hayes, San Jose, California. My dear Colleague: Knowing the fight that is now being waged against you in your District, after so many years of honorable and faithful service by you, I feel it will not be amiss for me to write you a few lines so that at least the workers in your District might not be fooled into believing that you have not been faithful to their interest.

I take this opportunity of testifying to the fact that whenever progressive legislation has been before, either the House of its Committees, you have been ever ready with your voice and vote, to bring about a greater measure of social and industrial justice to the toilers of our land, and I trust that your reward for faithful service to them will be their unanimous support of your candidacy for re-election to Congress.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN I. NOLAN,
Fifth District California.

WHAT IS SAID IN DALY CITY ABOUT BARG

Will H. Barg, the gentlemanly County Recorder who was out for re-election on the record he has made for absolute efficiency was in Daly City Monday and authorized his announcement that appears on the last page of this issue.

Mr. Barg received 394 votes at the Primary in Daly City, and his two competitors 273 and 165 respectively, so he is grateful to our people. and believes they will support him at the November election.

Daly City Record, September 27th, 1918.

The political quackery of a Jordan supporting a Bell, because Governor Stephens is not a Republican as defined in the Jordan conscience, is indubitably the star burlesque of the present campaign.

JUDGE THOMAS J. LENNON A POPULAR CANDIDATE

One of the most interesting and significant developments of the present political campaign is the enthusiasm and earnest effort which many influential groupe of men and women are giving to the candidacy of Judge Thomas J. Lennon, for the position of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Judge Lennon cannot make a campaign in his own behalf. He has neither inclination nor desire to do so in the present great national emergency, when the services of everyone have been demanded to make the Fourth Liberty Loan a success. Judge Lennon has been on the stump from San Francisco to San Diego, down the coast to the southland and back through the San Joaquin Valley. He has spoken to crowds in every city, town and hamlet on the way, but he has not spoken in his own cause. His fine talents have been given to the nation's need.

It is noteworthy therefore that what he could not do for himself, others are doing for him. Business men have organized themselves into an active, aggressive body to urge his election. They are militant in their efforts for his success. They have placed themselves on record as demanding his presence on the Supreme Bench. They know the full meaning of the reforms of quick and equitable action which he has introduced in the District Court of Appeal and which will be of incalculable value when made a part of the procedure of the Supreme Court.

Working men have established clubs in Lennon's service. These combinations extend to many parts of the State and all are inspired by the single purpose to place upon the Supreme Bench a man whose long and deep study of the law, whose admirable sense of justice whose energy, ability and integrity warrant his elevation to the tribunal of last resort. These associations of the toilers hold frequent sessions and the reports received from every part of California predict a record majority for the candidate who is so signally honored.

ROLPH REPUBLICANS ARE RALLYING TO STEPHENS

Republicans who voted for James Rolph, Jr., at the primary election are proving their loyalty to the party by pledging their support to Governor Stephens at the general election. That an overwhelming majority of Rolph men are lining up for the Governor is evidenced by a poll just taken in the cities of San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland and San Jose.

The poll takers questioned 700 men who voted for Rolph. Of these 587 indicated their intention to support Governor Stephens, 88 expressed the determination to write in Rolph's name and 33 were divided between Bell and Roser.

Governor Stephens has also been given assurance of the support of those who voted for Hayes, Bordwell, Fickert and McGee, who were rival aspirants for the party nomination at the primaries. Each of these four Republican leaders has written to Governor Stephens, congratulating him and pledging enthusiastic support.

JORDAN'S IDEA OF REPUBLICANS

When Secretary of State Frank Jordan, who in his interesting career has been strikingly and not infrequently wet, repudiates the Republicanism of Governor Stephens, because it is not as moist as his own, he suggests that in order to be a good Republican one must be as drunk as David's sow.

SAVE ALL THE FRUIT PITS AND NUT SHELLS, PLEA

Olive, date and cocoanut pits and shells have been added to the list of materials which the War Department, through the United States Food Administration, is again urging the public to save as a vital war necessity.

The pits of peaches, prunes, cherries, plums, either fresh, dried or canned, together with the shells of cocoanuts, Brazil nuts, butternuts and walnuts are required for the manufacture of carbon used in gas masks

In launching an appeal yesterday for the conservation of this needed material, the Food Administration said that no quantities are too small to be of use. Those who have small lots can send the mto the nearest Red Cross Chapter, which has undertaken to place them in proper channels.

SUES TO RECOVER ON CHATTEL MORTGAGE

Gustave C. Lindauer has brought an action in the superior court against George S. Switzer to recover the sum of $1200 on a promissory note secured by a chattel mortgage on a horse and other stock. The Henry Cowell Lime and Cement Company has also brought suit in the superior court against the same defendant to recover the sum of $343.75 for merchandise and material furnished defendant during the year last past.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

Preparations for the United War Work Campaign for San Mateo county were put under way with much enthusiasm at a recent meeting, held at San Mateo and presided over by Attorney Joseph B. Gordon, chairman of the San Mateo County Committee.

One of the principal questions under discussion was the apportionment of the county quota among the various communities of the county. The apportionment of the quota will be made public in the very near future.

United War Work Campaign is a title which has been given to the effort of

(Bone-Dry Prohibition)

CONGRESS has decreed that "war-time" prohibition shall become effective on July 1, 1919.

PROPOSITION No. 22 would dry up California with her 350,000 acres in grapes, on January 1, 1919

OUR GRAPE GROWERS NEED THOSE SIX NONTHS offered by Congress to adjust themselves to "war-time" prohibition

We believe the people of California, by a great majority sentiment, will refuse to discriminate against their own State and will protest to the end against the destruction of our great grape industry which has been fostered and encouraged for more than half a century.

Appealing to that spirit of loyalty and justice, we urge every fair-minded citizen to

CALIFORNIA AND CALIFORNIANS

BY GENERAL JOHN F. SHEEHAN

1888—A Presidential election was the excitement of 1888. The national tickets were: Republican, Benjamin Harrison of Indiana and Levy P. Morton of New York. Democratic, Grover Cleveland of New York and John Thurman of Ohio. The Republicans sent John F. Swift, Creed Haymond, Henry T. Gage and M. M. Estee as delegates to the National Convention, and the Democrats sent M. F. Tarpey, Stephen M. White, Clay W. Taylor and Wm. D. English as delegates at large to the Democratic National Convention.

Other Republican electors were: Gen. W. H. L. Barnes, Thos. L. Carothers, Geo. W. Schell, Lansing B Mizner, Samuel M. Shrtridge, Geo. A. Knight and H. M. Streeter.

The Democrats put up: Barney D. Murphy, C. P. Berry, F. Behringer, A. Caminetti, Chas. A. Jenkins, P. J. Murphy, N. Bowden and Byron Waters.

The Republicans carried the state for President by a mapority of 7,051.

1892—The Republicans had renominated Benjamin Harrison at Minneapolis, for President, and named as his running mate Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune. The California electors were: Thos. R. Bard, J .C. Campbell, Wm. Carson, Geo. B. Sperry, James A. Waymire, I. Hecht, H. V. Morehouse, John T. Porter, S. L. Hanscom (nine) the State now being entitled to seven Representatives in Congress, with two Senators.

The Democratic electors were: J. F. Thompson, Joseph D. Lynch, R. P. Hammond, J. A. Filcher, R. A. Long, Marcus Rosenthal, Jackson Hatch, Thos. Renison and W. L. Silman. For the third time Grover Cleveland was the Democratic nominee for President. This time his companion on the ticket for vice-President was Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Eight of the Cleveland electors were elected in California by an average of a few hundred votes, but J. F. Thompson, the ninth Democratic elector was defeated by Thos. R. Bard of Ventura by 187 votes. Cleveland became President of the United States for the second time, with an interregnum of four years.

1896—The second year of Governor Budd's administration, 1896, witnessed a heated Presidential campaign. William McKinley of Ohio and Garret A. Hobart of New York were nominated by the Republicans for President and vice-President, respectively, and the Democrats nominated Wm. Jennings Bryan of Nebraska and Arthur Sewall of Maine. Thomas E. Watson headed the Populist ticket. Bryan made his famous "Cross of gold" and free silver campaign, while the Republicans largely depended on the "full dinner pail" to carry them to victory. And it did. In California the Populists (Socialists mostly) ignored Watson and placed the name of Bryan on their ticket and came very near winning the Bryan electorial ticket by the following vote: McKinley, 146,688; Bryan, 144,766; majority for McKinley, 1922. Even at this the Republicans lost one of their electors, Thomas Flint, to the Fusion ticket, J. W. Martin being elected. The following electors were chosen: Duncan E. McKinlay, J. M. Walling, J. W. Martin, H. A. Powell, Ellwood Cooper, Irving M. Scott, George M. Francis Claus Spreckels and Joseph S. Spear, Jr. The greatest parade ever known in this state was the feature of this campaign in San Francisco on October 31st, the Republicans turning out 32,000 strong under the Marshalship of Colonel George Stone, afterwards Adjutant General of the State.

1900—President McKinley's successor was to be chosen in 1900, and the two great parties entered the fray with the usual gusto, although the Democrats were not as confident as in 1896. It was again McKinley against Bryan, with different running mates. Theodore Roosevelt, then Governor of New York, and the organizer of the "Rough Riders" in the Spanish-American War, was chosen for vice-President, and the Bryan mate was Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, who had served as vice-President with Grover Cleveland during the latter's second term, 1893 to 1897 It was a complete Republican victory, McKinley receiving 164,755 votes. Bryan, again with the Populist endorsement, 124,985, Eugene V. Debs, Socialist-Democrat, 7,572, John G. Woolley, Prohibitionist, 5,087. The Republican electors were: Samuel M. Shortridge, Wm. J. Barrett, John W. Ryan, Harold T. Power, Wm. R. Davis, Christian B. Rode, Warren R Porter and James McFadden.

1904—The Presidential election of 1904 was an unprecedented sweep of the Republican party. Theodore Roosevelt, who had filled for three and a half years the second McKinley term, was nominated for President with Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana for second place, and the Democrats gave Wm. Jennings Bryan a rest after his two defeats by McKinley, nominating Alton B. Parker of New York and millionaire H. G. Davis of West Virginia.

General George Stone was chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and the following were electors of that victorious party: Wm. S. Wood, U. S. Grant, Jr., Edward Sweeney, Charles M. Hammond, Francis M. Smith, Wm. J. Dingee, George H. Pippy, Morris B. Harris, Chas. J. Walker, Richard Melrose.

Democratic electors: John Garber, Edward White, J. Ross Clark, Thos. Blair, James G. Maguire, A. F. Jones, Frank J. Sullivan, Eugene Germain, W. M. S. Beebe, J. W. Barneber.

The State vote on electors was 205,226 for Wood (Rep.) and 89,404 for Maguire (Dem.) the two highest on the respective tickets or 115,822 plurality for Roosevelt, the greatest ever known in the history of the State. Debs, Socialist, for President, received 29,535 votes, and the Prohibitionist candidate had 7,380 votes.

1908—During Governor Gillett's term Judge Wm. H. Taft of Ohio was most prominently mentioned by the Republicans for President, and he had the backing of President Roosevelt, which was equivalent to his nomination and election at that period of political power of the "Great American Commoner," as he was then called. In 1908 the Republicans nominated as their national ticket William Howard Taft of Ohio and J. S. Sherman of New York, the Democrats again trying Wm. Jennings Bryan, with Kern of Indiana for second place. The State electorial tickets consisted of:

Republican: U. S. Grant, Jr., Samuel Shortridge, G. W. Dwinell, Alden Anderson, Francis M. Smith, H. G. W. Dinklespiel, Delos O. Druffell, Thos. J. Field, Bryon Erkenbrecker, Lyman M. King.

Democratic: James D. Phelan, Eugene Germain, W. B. Shearer, D. W. Carmichael, A. W. Maltley, Chas. Edelman, Harry P. Flannery, E. E. Bush, Thos. E. Gibbons, John W. Martin.

The difference in the total vote between Grant and Phelan was 86,,906 in favor of the Republican. The Independence League ticket was headed by Al. Murphy, who received 4278 votes. The Socialists (Debs) cast 28,659 votes, and the Prohibitionists (Chafin) increased to 11,770.

1912—The Presidential election of 1912 took on some unprecedented features. The Progressive movement, begun in Wisconsin, took root from Maine to the State of Washington, and California was deeply touched by it. The work of the enthusiastic little American Frenchman, Senator La Follette, had borne fruit and had penetrated the active brain and energetic body of the former head of the Republican party, Theodore Roosevelt, who from his Oystey Bay retreat issued his code of laws for the Republican party to adopt and sought the nomination for President on his own platform. In the National Republican Convention held in Chicago it was President Taft against ex-President Roosevelt, the whilom bosom friends. Taft won and the Republican party was split in twain. The Progressive party was formally organized nationally, and Theodore Roosevelt of New York and Hiram W. Johnson of California comprised its ticket. Nicholas M. Butler of New York was nominated for vice-President to run with Wm. Howard Taft. The Democratic party nominated Woodrow Wilson, a Princeton College Professor, for President and Thos. B. Marshall of Indiana for vice-President.

In California the Progressives claimed the Republican organization or State Central Committee, chose Roosevelt and Johnson electors, and the consequence was that the Republican party was not represented on the voting ballot on November 5th, those desiring to vote for Taft being compelled to write in the name of the Republican electors. This gave a white-heated aspect to politics, and denunciations were piled up until partisanship reached the high Olympus—so high in fact that it will not be dismounted during the present generation. In consequence the old-line stalwart Republicans generally voted the straight Democratic ticket, which resulted in almost a tie vote in the State between Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt.

The vote for electors was, women voting for the first time:

Roosevelt and Johnson—A. J. Wallace 283,610, Chas. S. Wheeler 283,-193, Philip Bancroft 282,888, F. C. Porter 282,781, Geo. C. Pardee 283,-057, Marshall Stimson 282,910, Frank R. Taft and Butler—Andrae Sbarboro 2847, Norman Bridge 3783, Ross Campbell 3753, Chas. E. Clinch 3677, Arthur E. Miller 3903, Joseph Martin 3525, Mrs. Kate M. Flynn 3582, Anson S. Blake 3914, Fred A. Dodge 3908, Chas. N. Felton 3896, Jonathan Bixby 3902, Robt. Sweeney 3313, Simon Levy 3057, Scattering 4417.

The Socialist vote reached 79,201 and Prohibition (Annie E. K. Bidwell) 23,366.

The difference between the highest vote of the Progressive ticket and the highest Democratic was only 174 votes in favor of the former. Two Progressive electors were defeated—M. A. Luce and J. W. Finney by Thos. F. Griffin and R. F. Del Valle. It is noticeable that the women candidates were not specially favored. Another feature of the balloting was the scratching by the Los Angeles Republican Prohibitionists of Andrea Sbaroro, the San Francisco Italian wine dealer and banker, a popular man and progressive citizen, who ran behind his ticket by nearly 1000 votes. On the Republican ticket Los Angeles cast 4327 scattering votes.

1916—On November 7, 1916, occurred the seventeenth Presidential election in which California participated since it became a State of the Union in 1850, covering a period of 66 years. The Republican party nominated at Chicago in June, for President, Charles Evans Hughes, of New York, taking him from the Supreme Bench of the United States, and for vice-President, Chas. W. Fairbanks of Indiana was again selected, he having been elected for the same office with Theodore Roosevelt for President in 1904. The Democratic Convention at St. Louis renominated Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and Thos. R. Marshall of Indiana. Judge Hughes, who had been twice elected Governor of New York, made an unprecendented campaign from the Atlantic to the shores of the Pacific, and the vote of California was generally conceded to him. But the result showed that party disruption had not been healed in the Golden State, for Wilson and Marshall carried it, the vote for Edward F. Doheney, who headed the Democratic ticket for elector, being 465,936 against 462,-516 for J. F. Carlston, the first name on the Republican ticket. The Socialist vote cast for Scott Anderson, first elector, was 42,898, and the Prohibitionists gave Mrs. Annie E. K. Bidwell 27,713 votes.

For United States Senator, Hiram W. Johnson was enrolled as Republican and Progressive candidate, receiving 574,667 votes; Geo. S. Patton, of Los Angeles, Democrat, 277,852; Walter T. Mills, Socialist, 49,341; Marshall W. Atwood, Prohibitionist, 38,797. That Governor Johnson received 112,151 more votes than Judge Hughes has caused national comment. Only five regular Republicans were elected representatives to Congress, as against four Democrats and two uncertain.

Herewith are the names of candidates for Presidential electors of the two great national parties:

Democratic: Edward L. Doheney, Francis J. Heney, L .F. Puter, Jo. V. Snyder, Irving C. Ackerman, Mrs. Virginia M. Spinks, Oscar Hocks, James F. Peck, Mrs. Mary Marshall Wiley, John F. Barry, Lorin A. Handley, R. F. Del Valle, Mrs. Carrie L. Tayler, all elected.

Republican: J. F. Carlston, John A. Britton, J. S. Montgomery, Albert E. Boynton, Rudolph J. Taussig, W. F. Chandler, J. C. Needham, Mary Roberts Coolidge, Joseph Scott, Willis H. Booth, Dr. Louise Harvey Clark, A. J. Wallace, J. P. Baumgartner.

Francis J. Heney, now a resident of Los Angeles, who received the highest vote cast for any candidate for elector, was chosen Messenger to deliver the vote of California to the Electorial College in Washington.

Hughes and Fairbanks carried New York and Indiana, and if they had secured the vote of California would have been elected.

In the seventeen Presidntial contsts in which California has participated the Democratic party has won the State but five times, viz: 1852, General Franklin Pierce; 1856 James Buchanan; 1880 General Winfield Scott Hancock; 1892 Grover Cleveland (second term); 1916 Woodrow Wilson. In two of these elections the Democrats lost one elector, Judge David S. Terry being defeated in 1880 by Henry Edgerton (Rep.) and in 1892 J. F. Thompson by Thos. R. Bard (Rep.) The Republicans won eleven and the Progressives one—1860 Lincoln; 1864 Lincoln; 1868 Grant; 1872 Grant; 1876 Hayes; 1884 Blaine; 1888 Harrison; 1896 McKinley; 1900 McKinley; 1904 Roosevelt; 1908 Taft. In 1912 the regular Republican candidate (Taft) was not represented on the ballot, and Roosevelt (Progressive) won eleven of the electors out of thirteen. M. A. Luce and J. W. Finney being defeated by a few votes by Thos. F. Griffin and R. F. Del Valle (Dem.) In 1896 McKinley lost one elector, Thomas Flint being defeated by J. W. Martin.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

A very pretty wedding took place in the Bishop's chapel on Webster street, San Francisco on Sunday, September 29, when Miss Cornelia Bonnell, a pretty Stanford girl, became the bride of Sergeant C. J. Thomas of Camp Fremont. The news of the wedding did not leak out until a few days ago. Bishop Ford Nichols performed the ceremony. The matron of honor was Miss Anastasia Roche, the well-known musicidn and opera singer and the groomsman was Harry Morton of San Francisco. The beautiful bride wore a delicate Parisian dress of the latest mode. She wore a string of costly pearls sent to her as a wedding present by her brother from Italy. She carried a bouquet of lily of the valley. The young lady certainly looked charmingly on her wedding day. Sergeant Thomas has been at the camp for some months and met his future bride at her beautiful home in University Park near the cantonment. He is a relative of General Thomas, the noted southern soldier who gained fame during the Civil War. Mrs. Thomas is a graduate of Stanford. She divides her time between Palo Alto and University Park, having a home in both places. Mrs. Thomas comes from an old and well-known Philadelphia family. The Sergeant is a member of the medical corps of the army and left with his company for overseas Sunday last at which time the news of the marriage was made known.

Father C .E. Kennedy, for some time the chaplain of the Knights of Columbus building at Camp Fremont, has been appointed a regular chaplain in the army and is commissioned a first lieutenant. Father Kennedy will be stationed here for the present. His successor at the K. C. building has not yet been made. Father Kennedy during his stay at the cantonment has become very popular with the soldiers, making friends with all. His many friends on the peninsula are pleased to know that he is to remain at the camp for a time at least.

Frank Clohan passed away at Los Angeles last Tuesday after a short illness. Some years ago Mr. Clohan married the pretty Grace Thomson of University Heights. The deceased was well-known here. He was engaged in business in the south. His sudden demise is a shock to his many friends.

Thomas Carleton arrived home from San Francisco yesterday after undergoing an operation required by the government to fit him for the service. He will most likely enter one of the training camps to perfect himself in the artillery branch of the army.

Nearly 500 non-commissioned officers arrived at Camp Fremont on Thursday from the Philippine islands to assist in training the new recruits that are expected at the cantonment very soon.

There is a big demand for tomato land here this season. Japanese are offering as high as $50 an acre for choice ranches. A big price for tomatoes next year has caused this big demand for land.

Moses Heller has closed his home at Atherton for the winter and has taken apartments in the city.

Mrs. Vida Josephine Buelna, wife of Frank Buelna, Menlo Park, passed away in Weed last week. Her husband is employed by the Willows Light and Power company. Mrs. Buelna was known for her kindly acts of charity and her ready sympathy for those in sorrow.

Th schools of this community did not open last Monday and will not until such time as the influenza epidemic has completely abated. There has not been any new cases here for the past twentw-four hours and the disease is under control, but the trustees of the schools wish to take every precaution.

The Jewish Welfare Association is erecting a hostess house on Santa Cruz avenue to cost $15,000. The association has had the erection of this structure in contemplation for several weeks. It is expected that over 20,000 soldiers will arrive at the camp within the next month and it wants to be in a position to meet the friends of the drafted men.

Mrs. Clinton La Montagne and her mother, Mrs. J. L. Laine, will return to their residence on Broadway Wednesday after having enjoyed a month in Menlo Park, where they occupied the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pringle. Lieutenant Montagne has been stationed at Camp Fremont since his graduation from the fourth officers' training camp, so Mrs. La Montagne took the Pringle house so as to be with her husband as much as possible. Mrs. Alvah Kaine will be established in the Pringle house during the winter season.

Mrs. Johanna Sullivan, wife of Mort Sullivan, passed away at her home on Santa Cruz avenue on Saturday last after an illness of four months. She was a native of Ireland aged 82 years. Mrs. Sullivan and her husband came here over forty years ago and have resided here continually ever since. Mrs. Sulivan is survived by her husband who has been an invalid for a number of years The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park.

William Hill, formerly engaged in the livery business at Palo Alto, died suddenly in that city on Monday. He was well-known in this vicinity.

Father Moisant, a chaplain at Camp Fremont departed on Wednesday with his regiment for overseas. He had been at the cantonment for over a year and during that time made many friends here. He was universally esteemed and admired for his sanctity by the people of the peninsula.

For Sale—At reasonable price, 15 tons first-class hay, apply at C. Josselyn Woodside. 24*

During the week nearly the whole of the Eighth Division departed from Camp Fremont. There are yet nearly 10,000 soldiers left at the big cantonment. Among the Menlo Park boys who left were Philip Blanchard, of the Thirteenth Regiment, and John Roach and Charles Weeden of the Eighth. The departure of the division has caused much sorrow and has left behind many sad hearts.

The pathetic death of Thomas Clunie from the prevailing epidemic has caused a void in his home that can never be filled. He was a bright, clever and manly young man, his mother's joy and his father's pride. He had just turned nineteen and was a military student at Stanford and had high hopes of entering the war as an officer. He was a native of San Francisco but came here a number of years ago with his family. Young Clunie was a nephew of the late Thomas Clunie, who at one time represented this district in Congress. The young man was named after his uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Clunie have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

It is peculiar how the "Spanish Flu" since it reached the Pacific Coast has traversed the El Camino Real and visited every town bearing a Spanish name. And from present indications it seems very evident that everyone will be wearing a gas mask before the siege has passed.

Electrician M. E. Ryan of Redwood City has the contract for wiring and placing the electric fixtures in the Hammel bungalow.

Sam Veatch, for many years, and until his retirement, was general chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors and vice-President Gregg, connected with the same organization, with their families, while on an auto trip down the peninsula, dropped in to see their old friend, Cowgill, who was associated with them in the labor union work during the five years he served as general chairman of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. During their concurrent administrations they have had occasion to appear before the California Railroad Commission in a co-operative capacity in matters affecting the railroad employes of all branches connected with the transportation department, and this is why they quite naturally feel that one who has represented such a large number of this class of men should have one of the places on the Railroad Commission.

Messrs. R. P. Hurlbut, Sr. and Jr., and Fred H. Drake, manager of the San Carlos properties have organized a company to be known as the "Jimmy Quick Products Company" of San Carlos. They will prepare and place upon the market a compound prepared by Mr. Hurlbut, Jr., which will remove grease and stains from the hands without the use of water. All you have to do is apply, rub briskly with a cloth and the work is done jimmy quick.

Mrs. Stewart, fro mSan Francisco is here for a visit with her son, Mr. D. L. Stewart until the "flu" has spent its force in the metropolis.

Mr. I. H. Zabuskie of the Pacific Fence Construction company is building one of their modern up-to-date fences around the Mary Brittan ranch and will place one of their automatic gates at the entrance. Mr. Zabuskie also built the wire fence fronting on the state highway for the C. C. Morse people.

Mr. A. E. Fake, foreman for contractor Knowles has completed the stables at the Morse Seed Ranch and will soon have the six-room bungalow in readiness for the superintendent of the seed farm to move into.

Mr. F. R. Woodward who recently took apartments in the Powers' bungalow is connected with the C. C. Morse Seed company as one of their experts on land appraisements.

There are many in San Carlos who knew Thurlow Murray well, and who were grieved at his untimely passing. All in this section appreciate that he handled his work thoroughly and well, with impartiality and without regard to any particular section, and every one looked forward to a bright future for him.

Mr. Jno. A. Boyd went to work a little too soon after his apparent recovery from the "flu," and in consequence has been confined to his home again but is not seriously ill. All excepting those who have been recently attacked are either up and around or are reported as getting along nicely. Mrs. A. E. Botterell is one of the latest to be forced to take to her bed.

Mr. J. La Fayette McLain, proprietor and custodian of the Ohio Building has been a striking and familiar figure on our streets ever since he landed on the banks of Steinberger Creek in charge of this historical landmark at the time it was moved from the exposition grounds soon after the close of the fair. With his long flowing beard and the otherwise patriarchal atmosphere which enshrouds him, and with the knowledge that he rode astride the roof of the Ohio building on its course down the bay, where he could immagine he was on the outlook for doves and olive branches, the children of the town have affectionately christened he and the building as Noah and his Ark. And although, like Whitcomb Reilly, Mr. McLean with his robust figure and active mind at 80 years, is of that class of men known as those "too smart to get married," he is extremely fond of children and he is never happier than when he is visited by a band of youngsters with their picnic lunches who have gone to the Ohio building for a swim and boat ride with the old gentleman, and to picnic all day. Mr. McLain was born and brought up in Arkansas, or "Arkansaw," and is of the old school, having been teacher in the three RRR's, reading, writing and arithmetic and postmaster successively in his home state for many years before venturing west. And he is very proud that he fought with the grays, although now happy of the outcome which cemented this people as one affectionate nation of great people, who were foreordained to lick the kaiser and put down autocracy.

REDWOOD BOYS LEFT FOR FORT ROSENCRANS

Fifty men, drafted for general military service, left on Wednesday from San Mateo for Fort Rosencrans near San Diego. Those who departed from Redwood City were: Joseph Deluchi, Harrison L. Williams, Jos. Martin, Albert L. Gilbert, Aubrey V. Leslie. Mr. Williams was in charge of the contingent leaving San Mateo.

In the Town of Redwood City, as a Preventative to Spanish Influenza.

The Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City hereby resolve as follows, to-wit:

Section 1.—During the period of the epidemic of the so-called "Spanish influenza," which is now prevalent in the Town of Redwood City, every person appearing on the public streets, in any public place, or in any assemblage of persons or in any place where two or more persons are congregated, except in homes where only two members of the family are present, and every person engaged in the sale, handling or distribution of foodstuffs or wearing apparel shall wear a mask or covering, except when partaking of meals, over the nose and mouth consisting of fourply material known as butter cloth or of fine-mesh gauze, at the four corners of which are attached tape or other fastening, so that the mask or covering can be made to firmly cover the nose and mouth, said mask to be not less than five inches in width and seven in length.

Section 2.—Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of section 1 of this resolution shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than five ($5) dollars or more than one hundred ($100) dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding ten days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 3.—This Resolution shall be in force and take effect immediately and shall remain in effect until repealed.

Passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City at a special meeting of said Board duly called and held on the 25th day of October, 1918, by the following vote:

THE HUMPHREY "RADIANTFIRE"

A Wonderful Discovery in Gas Heating, Peculiarly Adapted to Our California Climate

"Radiantfire" is the modern open fireplace. It has the charm and fascination of the firelight, the same flood of radiant heat, without the dirt of smoke, firewood or ashes, and the danger from flying sparks.

NOISELESS AND ODORLESS

It lights quickly—can be turned down low—no deadening of the air.

Why not install one in that unused fireplace?

N. B.—We sell and install the Humphrey "Radiantfire." See demonstration in our Heating Department at headquarters.
